Magellan's Pack 'N Go Toiletry Kit

September 13, 2017 - by Melody Wren

I must admit to having a variety of toiletry bags for different types of travel, but this hanging toiletry bag with multiple compartments is my 'go to' favourite. Occasionally, when traveling, I have to share a bathroom with someone, and this travel bag which hangs on a hook forces me to be a tidy traveler (only when sharing).

Seventeen days on a ship using a small bathroom with little storage space, I found this toiletry bag to be the perfect fit. It allowed easy access to everything, and the covered compartments kept my personal items concealed from the cleaning staff.

The five pockets allow my organizational skills to shine, dividing my cleansing products in one area, evening makeup for another, and two zip mesh pockets work well for small pencils, a sharpener, tweezers, items that you want to access and are visually available. A removable mirror is helpful to have along. And there's enough space to hold soap, shampoo, lotions, lipstick, and a long compartment for toothbrush, comb or brush and the side pockets make your trip easy and comfortable. The hanger is concealed only emerging if needed. The durable nylon folds down small enough to toss into a carry-on or overnight tote bag without adding bulk. Perfect for business trips, out of town family holidays, short or long weekend trips, camping and outdoor adventures.
