

Smart Phones can now Swim and Snorkel with EOTW

waypointsglobal.com/gear-and-garments/gearing/smart-phones-can-now-swim-and-snorkel-with-eotw/

By Melody Wren

January 29, 2019

Looking for something simple to hang around my neck for my smart phone to take photos while travelling on, beside or under water, I tried out the EOTW Waterproof Case Dry Bag. It is universally waterproof for water skiing, canoeing, windsurfing, paddleboarding, snorkeling, or kayaking.

Recently, I was on a small ship in the Sea of Cortes, and my waterproof pouch was around my neck as often as my name tag. Easy to use with a clasp that insures it is solidly closed before being exposed to water. It is simple to take photos through the guard, however, when I was on a guided zodiac ride, I admit to taking it out of the case to be able to use my phone's camera more adeptly.

The case is made of high-quality PVC and is not only waterproof but snowproof and dirtproof. The secure dual swivel lock and re-sealable closure clip makes it safe and secure. It is widely compatible with many different smart phones. As a short person, I appreciated the adjustable lanyard which has a locking cord rope. The clear window allows for flexibility with photography and videography and full touch screen accessibility...should you decide to text while snorkeling. As well as the lanyard, there are two shoulder straps included. Good value for this essential waterproof smart phone case.

<http://www.eotwsports.com/product/eotw-waterproof-case-dry-bag-with-military-class-lanyard-ipx8-certified-for-kayaking-boating/>

Share

Tweet

Email